

Princess

Julia Bettencourt

Most girls grow up loving the princess in the fairytales. We all hope for that “prince” of a person in our lives. And many of us women love those beautiful dresses, sparkling crowns and bobbles, and want our own type of “castle” to live in.

This theme can work well for a little girl’s birthday party or even us big girls like to be taken away to a fairyland once in a while. And a baby shower for a little princess is quite perfect.

As a women’s ministry theme, this can make a great time on reflecting on the King of Kings.

Royal Decree Discussion Starter

If you could "rule" the world, what would be the first thing you would do?

- You could make up a fun royal robe. Use fabric, a plastic tablecloth (or whatever you can come up with). Add some furry or boa type trim to the neckline.
- Pick a few people to come up, put on the robe, and make their royal "decree".
- Be sure to have a crown for them to wear and be sure to get photos.

Discussion Starters

- What is your favorite fairytale princess and why?
- If you could rule any country, what one would it be and why?
- How long have you been a "daughter of the King" (Salvation age)?

- Tell us how you met your "prince".

Beauty Queen

Do spa related activities such as doing each other's hair and nails.

Royal Invitations

If your invitations will be handed out in person, do them up as scrolls and roll up and tie with ribbon.

Herald any Announcements

Have someone do the "Hear Ye" , "Hear Ye" for getting started and announcements, reading off of a scroll.

Photo Opportunities

- Make up a throne for a photo opportunity.
- Use a large chair with a high back.
- Drape with velvet type fabric.
- Have a "robe" and crown on hand.

Announce your Guests

Announce your guests' names as they arrive. (first and last name) If you have a man on hand with a deep voice, that might be nice, but if not have one of your ladies use a microphone. As each one arrives, announce their names such as at a royal ball.

Hat Tea Party Group Project

If you are having a Royal Tea, have your ladies make up hats to wear. The more outlandish, the better. Give prizes for the silliest, wildest, biggest, etc. Allow them to start with a base, such as a straw hat, ball cap, sun visor, or any type of hat to get started. Suggest they add feathers, gems, etc.

Crown Group Project

Do a crown group project by decorating craft "crowns" with jeweled craft beads, etc.

Food & Serving

- Serve tea for a "Royal Tea"
- Foods of all one color such as pink
- Dainty foods such as petite fours, finger sandwiches, etc.
